EPA is committed to working closely with response agencies and state and local officials to ensure the safety of citizens, respond to concerns and to evaluate impact to water contaminated by the Gold King Mine Release. EPA is sharing information as quickly as possible with the public as experts work to evaluate any effects the spill may have on drinking water, public health, agriculture, fish and wildlife.

Please see our website for the latest information: <http://www2.epa.gov/region8/gold-king-mine-release-emergency-response>

Regular updates will be posted as they are available.

Dear EPA,

Please fire all those responsible for the toxic spill in the Animas River.

The environment has enough problems without this type of event.

I was especially alarmed by a statement released from an EPA spokesperson that the water was not harmful to wildlife. What incompetence!
